

RUTH OUT OF GAME SUFFERING FROM 5 DIFFERENT WOUNDS

Would Play in Spite of these.
However, But for Doctor's Warning

NEW YORK.—Ruth, out of the world's series because of injuries, is suffering from five different wounds, any one of which probably would be sufficient to keep many players from the game.

Here are Ruth's injuries:—
Infected upper arm, in which surgeons have made a three-inch incision. The original injury was suffered in the Cleveland-New York series. The wound was torn open twice in the games of Sunday and Monday, and the arm is badly swollen.

Sprained left knee in mid-summer, has never had enough rest to regain strength.

Pulled tendon of "Charlie Horse" in right leg, torn loose again Monday, when he scored from first on Monday's two-bagger.

Sprained wrist caused by falling on his arm when sliding bases.

"Strawberry" or open sore on his hip, caused by sliding bases and constantly reopening.

Ruth says he could stand the pain and would play but for the warning of physicians that constant aggravation would spread the infection in his arm and make another and more serious operation necessary.

GRACE LUSK PARDON HELD UP BY BLAINE

Governor Not to Act Until He Has
More Time for Consideration

MADISON, Wis.—The Grace Lusk pardon application is expected to be acted on by Governor Blaine as soon as he has disposed of other pardon matters and found time to give careful consideration to the plea of the former Waukesha school teacher for release from her thirteen year prison sentence imposed on conviction for killing Mrs. David Roberts in 1917, according to word from the executive clerk.

This application and that of John T. Barron county "plaster" doctor, serving one year for practicing medicine without license, are being held up by the governor until he can give them more careful consideration. Both had their applications filed more than a month ago.

It was reported from the executive office after the hearing on the application of Miss Lusk for executive clemency, that she would be released within ten days in order to permit her to be treated for ailments, which it is said, she is suffering from. Her attorneys told the governor that she would soon be unable to receive medical attention of a nature which the prison doctors could not afford.

More than a month has gone by since then, and no action has been taken by Governor Blaine. It is believed that he wishes to give the application most careful consideration before taking any action that would free the prisoner from paying the penalty which was imposed.

John T. Barron also will be kept in jail in Barron county until the governor is satisfied that he should be given freedom.

A layer of metallic dust a foot thick would accumulate on the car's surface in a million years.

Money seems to go much further now when you are chasing it.

STOP Hard Rubbing Makes Wrinkles

Beauty Specialist Endorses "French Pack," "New Method Beautifier."

"We do not give facial massages any more except when we are compelled to. In massaging you rub the face hard, this causes the skin causing wrinkles. The skin is like a rubber band and will stand only a certain amount of stretching. Rubbing makes lines which soon develop into deep wrinkles. The French Pack treatment is the only one that does not rub the skin and removes wrinkles," says Dr. Francis, beauty specialist, St. Francisco, Cal. Furthermore, in massaging oil remains in the pores collecting dust and dirt which bore down into the pores of your skin forming blackheads and skin eruptions. No massaging, no soap and water will remove this unsightly blemish. The French Pack, "The New Method Beautifier" does deep into the pores of your skin and removes all these impurities. Takes only one treatment and you will notice a tightening of the skin lines around the eyes and mouth and more starts. Immediately eliminate from your face these marks, the skin glows with new life, blackheads disappear as if by magic. Dries up pimples, instantly, removes oil spots and blemishes, cleans the skin and takes away dead tissues. No freckles, tan or sunburn there, nothing to soothe and cooling just the French Pack treatment. Doesn't irritate in the least, a single treatment and freckles entirely disappear, two or three treatments and the texture of the skin finer, firmer and of a delicate velvety white. Leading Beauty Specialists everywhere endorse French Pack treatment, charging $2.00 to $3.00 for a single treatment. Your druggist sells a 2-oz. $1.00 jar containing 10 treatments. A 4-oz. jar containing 20 treatments now costs you only 10 cents, placing these truly wonderful beauty treatments within the reach of everyone. And only one treatment, if it doesn't produce greater improvement in your complexion than any beauty remedy you have ever used, you will refund your money. Sold by all druggists, or mailed postpaid on receipt of $1.00. The McDonald Co., La Crosse, Wis.

FIND TUFT OF RED HAIR BELIEVED TO BE JACOBSON'S

A tuft of reddish hair believed to be that of John Jacobson, who is thought to have lost his life with a C. Cox in the Mississippi river near Homer nearly two weeks ago, was found by searchers for the Jacobson body. The hair was taken to Winona as that of her husband. The hair was found by August Grims, fisherman, who located the Jacobson barge near Homer ten days ago. Because of his longer arm, Grims was forced to give up active search. Other fishermen are continuing their search for the body, which is believed to be buried in the sand near Homer.

BANDITS ENTER BANK AT DARIEN AND LOOT SAFE DEPOSIT VAULT

Cut Telephone Wires and Burglars Leave Three Hours
Before Alarm is Given

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Coming in today, working with precision, escaping without a trace or a clue, bandits opened the safe deposit vault of the Farmers' State bank at Darien between two and three o'clock Wednesday morning and rifled fifty-four of the private boxes. Jule Young, speaker of the Wisconsin assembly, and president of the bank, said after looking over the wreckage that the loss would be small but that it would be necessary to check each individual depositor before a complete list of missing valuables could be made.

Instead of attempting to force the vault, the bandits worked with heavy crowbars on the brick wall of the vault and tunneled through. After getting in the safety deposit vault they started a hole in the brick wall of the money vault, but quit before completing the job.

Next door to the bank is the family of Ben Starin. They were aroused but looking out saw a man standing guard at the front and another at the rear door of the house. The telephone wires were cut. The family went back to bed and the alarm was not given until seven o'clock this morning. The telephone office was across the street, but the girl there heard nothing unusual. It is believed that the robbers had at least three hours start before the alarm was given.

The Farmers' State bank is the only bank at Darien. It is a heavy depository for the dairymen in that section.

MAY ROBSON COMES MONDAY IN CLEVER NINA PUTNAM PLAY

"It Pays to Smile" Adapted from Story in Saturday Evening
Post

May Robson returns to the La Crosse theater in an extremely clever and original play called "It Pays to Smile."

This story is conceded to be one of the cleverest published recently in the Saturday Evening Post, written by Nina Wilcox Putnam and adapted for the stage by Ethel Watts Mumford.

It deals with a maiden lady whose finances are at such a low ebb that she is forced to seek employment. She applies and is engaged for a governess and chaperone to a young California girl whose father is a millionaire, although both the father and daughter are uneducated. They sail on a trip abroad and by "Freedom" (Miss Robson) through the kindness of a cousin, who married an Italian count, they are introduced to the elite of Monte Carlo.

A young duke and "Peaches" become desperately in love but without warning, no explanation, the duke leaves Monte Carlo for lands unknown. The outbreak of the war brings them back to America and they are seen in a beautiful orange grove in California but "Peaches" is subdued as in a report from Italy the duke's death is announced. At the opening of the second act, Peaches is preparing to marry Sebastian Markheim, a banker whose collection of rare paintings is known the world over.

He has furnished and prepared his beautiful mansion for the arrival of the Californian but they are not there

Mr. A. Y. Phillips, La Crosse, Wis.
My Dear Mr. Phillips:—

I have this day made one of the best suit purchases of my entire career. It is needless for me to go into detail about this purchase, as the suits will talk for themselves.

Your requisition prompted me to scour the markets for these garments, and I am very pleased that you suggested my calling on these high grade manufacturers, and only after laying down the cash was I able to force them to make these concessions, as suits are having a ready demand in New York today.

I don't know what you intend to sell these suits at but whatever your price, I feel confident that you will make a lot of good customers by offering these suits at sale prices.

You know the houses we made these purchases from and not any of them originally showed anything to sell for less than $75.00.

Mr. Nicholls is in New York and he also urged me to take care of your further wants, as he wants to have our La Crosse store make as favorable a showing as is possible by offering Super-Values.

Leave the rest to me.
Trusting you are enjoying good business and with kindest regards.

Respectfully,
FIELDS, Inc., S. T. GANS.

VAIN GLORY

LET us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.—Galatians 5: 26.

Why Destroy the Carp?

ONE is at a loss to fix the source or intention of the act of the 1921 Wisconsin legislature which was brought to the attention of Governor Blaine in Herbert Hoover's letter published Tuesday evening. The supposition is, naturally, that the law was framed by anglers anxious to preserve the waters of the state for game fish in the general belief—probably not without foundation—that the presence of carp in game fish waters is dangerous to the existence of the latter. But it must be obvious that in securing the passage of such legislation the anglers are threatening the life of an industry that plays a very important part in the prosperity of that portion of Wisconsin that borders on the river. We do not recall that any opportunity was given this section of the state or those interested in the fishing industry to appear in their own defense, and it is submitted that in such a grave and far-reaching decision as this action should not have been taken without full investigation and hearing.

We have said that the belief that carp endanger the existence of game fish is probably not without foundation. But this should be qualified, according to the opinion of competent fish experts, to apply to restricted or confined waters only. In landlocked lakes it is true that the carp, a purely vegetarian fish in his diet, does up-root and destroy the weed beds in shallow water in which game fish spawn. But that they devour game fish eggs, or young fish, is by all expert opinion held to be untrue. Moreover, in such waters as the Mississippi, offering a wide range and a great variety of conditions, the habits of game fish and carp do not co-incide to any considerable extent. The fish rescue service in these waters report it to be the exception when their seines catch carp in ponds in which there are small rough fish, or vice versa. And they point to the undoubted increase in both rough and game fish in the river herabouts in the last few years as evidence that there exists a balanced relation, arranged and preserved by nature, by which each type of fish prospers in a measure more or less related to the prosperity of the other. The young carp provide food for the bass and other game fish, a fact which any angler can verify from his own experience.

It may be wise and proper to destroy the carp in Wisconsin lakes which are not within the range of commercial fishermen, but rather the resort of sportsmen. But one must seriously question the propriety of extending such a policy to the Mississippi, and thereby slowly but surely wrecking an industry that annually runs to hundreds of thousands of dollars, and tons of food in the neighborhood of La Crosse alone. The commercial fishermen have their faults, but they have rights as well. And it seems, to say the least, absurd that one agency of government, the state, should be undertaking to destroy a source of food and an industry that another agency, the federal government, is devoting increasing appropriations to develop and foster.

Railroad Costs

SENATOR CUMMINS, of Iowa, was with the then Congressman John J. Esch jointly responsible for the 1920 railroad measure known as the Esch-Cummins law. The country protested against the measure, partly because of the excessive rates, and partly because it was generally regarded as an unduly advantageous bargain for the roads. As a means of pulling the roads out of the hole the bill proved ineffective, largely because of stagnant business conditions against recovery from which its high freight rates weighed heavily. Now both Esch and Cummins are engaged in the movement to renounce the law.

Esch's part is now with the interstate commerce commission, of which he has become a member. With his colleagues he has worked out a plan of division of the roads into a number of separate systems. This aims at cheaper hauling through unification, without loss of competition, and at saving through reduced overhead. It goes part way along the line urged by railroad labor, but does not reach labor's goal of public ownership. It moves in the only direction in which can lie reduced cost of transportation without substantial reduction in railroad wages.

Recently, in a public speech, Senator Cummins declared freight rates will have to come down. He thinks reduced rates would so stimulate traffic as to more than make up for the lower rates. The railroads, however, took occasion at a conference following Cummins' speech to inform him that wages must come down before rates can come down. Which is exactly where we were at the outset.

Whether Mr. Cummins' new views respond partly to political considerations or emanate entirely from a sense of the country's needs, one can not say. His stand is significant in view of his authorship in the much berated law, and may be taken as recognition of the fact that the present law will not stand the test of public opinion. But whether the country can have what it wants, under present conditions, without tying up transportation, is another matter. Whatever there is in it, it would seem that Esch is working along the only practical lines. Practical organization and efficient management may not save enough to bring rates down to the public heart's content, but they may do much to bridge the gap. Like everything else, railroad rates must depend upon what it costs to do business. Railroad wages may have to come down still further or we may have to resort to national operation. But wages should not be reduced until every other practical railroad economy has been effected. The country has long been convinced that there is a costly leak in railroad management.

The Lodestar

THE deficit in the French budget is 2,500,000,000 francs. The annual military and naval expenditure of the budget is 4,500,000,000 francs. Roughly, by slicing her martial expenditure in two France could balance her budget, quit printing paper francs and make great strides forward in replacing her money at its normal value, with the consequent improvement in trade which that would entail not only for France but for the rest of the world. France would like to do it, say cable advices from Paris, but fears "surprise from the east". That is, France is afraid that without the French army of occupation on the Rhine Germany will come back for revenge. The Associated Press adds the hint that the French would be glad to consider this measure of disarmament, to make ends meet, at the Washington conference if "guaranteed otherwise" against this enemy in the east. "Guaranteed otherwise!" How inevitably every consideration of any problem of disarmament or world peace comes round, in the end, to a question of mutual agreement among the nations to defend and protect each other against aggression—a League of Nations.

Phillip Brenner, New York, is a man we're sorry for. He was playing poker, all the other players stood pat before the draw, and he filled a royal flush. The reason we are sorry for Mr. Brenner is that he dropped dead from excitement when he "filled" and never got the chance to make his killing.

The Peak

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Travers's last memory of his sister was a slim gray form standing against the white pillars of the porch. Her large eyes were still troubled and her fair face very sad. Viola's trouble was a mystery to him—she had always been such a gay, irresponsible creature, and now in the last five years she had sobered into a woman who went about as if her heart was in some other world.

He had racked his brain to think of some reason for her change, and when he had a chance to take a brief vacation he thought of his old classmate, Jimmie Ladd, who had built a studio in the heart of the woods and had not been seen by civilized man for several years. Old Jimmie, once a wizard among girls, would at least hazard a guess at Viola's preoccupation.

"What the deuce are you doing here?" gasped Jimmie when he gripped Travers's hand. "Anything happened? Everybody well and happy? There was a sudden sharpness in his tone.

Travers met the honest scrutiny of these brilliant blue eyes. "All well," he smiled.

"And—Viola—your sister?" Ladd was bending to cross a beautiful colic.

"Very well, thanks. No need to ask you how you enjoy solitude—you're hard, and thin, and rugged—man, you've worked yourself to a bone."

"Work agrees with me. I'm very fit these days. There, I slipped his hands and the animal leaped upon him playfully. "She belonged to my young brother Bob—never came back—Ladd's face was hidden a moment behind the foliage's snowy rift and then suddenly lifted to show the eyes dulled with pain and the mobile lips grim and unsmiling. "Funny thing, this life we live—one loves it, glorifies it by heroic deeds and is snuffed out, while another who doesn't care a straw whether he stays on or not has to fight out his dreary round of days."

"Not you, Laddie," Travers protested.

A smile crooked the painter's mouth. "I am a cheerful beggar these days. Van, first time I've seen you in years, and I'm giving you an impression of perpetual bliss. You've got a bite to eat. Then I'll give you a private view of what I've been doing lately. Tomorrow you can hunt or fish; today is mine to go over you."

"Of course I knew you had captured the Woodcock prize."

"Yes."

"And had a room to yourself at the big exposition. I couldn't go, but Viola was there and bought one of your pictures."

"Yes."

"The Peak. There's something haunting about that picture, Laddie; so much snow, gray ice and such bleak distances. Then the jagged white peak rising stark, alone, with the north wind keen in its face, while the sheltered life of the valleys below moves on peacefully, not knowing the bitter storming of the peak; it is like a lonely man sitting aloof on the top of the world and seeing all that he loved and hoped for pass by. It's heartbreaking!" Travers's pleasant voice grew rough with feeling.

"It's not a bad picture," said Ladd simply, as he refilled his pipe.

Travers scrutinized his friend's face. The old, happy, careless smile had faded, like the mountains which he painted; his erect carriage and the slight suggestion of a smile made the thin lips look like a pang. Perhaps it was Bob Ladd's death that had struck the light from Viola's eyes. But she was not until the evening meal was over that Ladd awoke Travers from a long, abstracted silence.

"Did you bring your troubles with you, Van?" he asked.

Travers nodded, his thin lips tightening about his pipe stem. "I brought them to you, hoping you might help me. It isn't financial—there's always been all right." He hesitated. How little could he tell and make Jimmie understand. He was incapable of deciding for himself now, and Viola seemed so remote from him—so inaccessible in her lone sorrow. He wanted to tell her, but he was afraid. "It is my sister," he said at last.

"Viola? What of her?"

"Everything," he answered her happy always. She married Chalmers."

"She has never married."

"Viola has never married, and she is always so sad, so unlike herself, that I came to you, man, for advice, to ask you what to do. Do you know what I think of your wisdom?"

"Wisdom?" ejaculated the other bitterly. "Way, Van, I am a fool."

A Fine Art

By DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

R. G. K. CHESTER-TON has been to Jerusalem, and has written about his experiences there. So many people had preceded Mr. Chesterton, and had written of what they saw, it must have been hard for him to say anything original about it. But he has done fairly well. He says he was not disappointed in the old Biblical city.

"Various cultivated critics told me I should find Jerusalem disappointing; and I fear that it will disappoint them that I am not disappointed."

Not at all. If other people had gone to Jerusalem and found it all that they hoped, Mr. Chesterton would surely have found it very disappointing; but inasmuch as that is not the ordinary verdict, no one who reads Mr. Chesterton could doubt that he would find it exactly what other people did not.

In this instance I am in accord with Mr. Chesterton. I was not disappointed in Jerusalem. I knew before

I went there about the dirt and the fleas and the beggars, and I determined to enjoy the city in spite of them. Indeed, I do not like to be disappointed. Being disappointed is largely a habit. People can make up their minds to enjoy life, and enjoy it, in spite of its inevitable trials. Or, they can go through life disappointing everybody. Chesterton says:

"I have met a tourist who has seen the great Pyramid, and who told me that the Pyramid looked small. Believe me, the tourist looked much smaller."

"The mistake of critics is not that they criticize the world, but that they never criticize themselves."

"I delicately suggested to those who were disappointed at the Sphinx that it was just possible the Sphinx was disappointed in them. The Sphinx has seen Julius Caesar; it has certainly looked on the face of the young Napoleon."

"It is not barely possible, I hinted to my fellow tourists, that after these experiences, the Sphinx might be a little depressed at the sight of you and me?"

It is good to cultivate the fine art of not being disappointed. One gets more out of life, and also gives more.

WE hope there is no Mother who thinks she can treat her sick baby without calling in a Physician, or with remedies that she uses for herself.

Most Mothers know that Baby requires remedies especially prepared for babies, yet there are some who think that what is good enough for them is good enough for Baby, and it is to these Mothers we appeal to give nothing to their babies that is not specially prepared for babies or recommended by their Physician.

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Mothers Must Use Care.

Why do we so often call your attention to imitations of Fletcher's Castoria? Because it is a baby's medicine and imitations are always dangerous, particularly imitations of a remedy for infants.

Your druggist may not keep an imitation but they are to be found on drug-store shelves. Reliable druggists think only of the welfare of their customers. The other kind only of the greater profit to be made on imitations.

Your own judgment tells you that Fletcher's Castoria having for over thirty years at great expense held up its reputation, must jealously guard it. Then, it follows that this company must use the very best of material. Must employ experts in the selection of the herbs. Must retain skilled chemists in its manufacture.

Your same good judgment must tell you that these irresponsible imitators are trading on your credulity and the reputation built up by Mr. Fletcher, during all these years, for his Castoria.

"FOUR HORSEMEN" MUSIC GIVES LIFE TO THRILLING SCENES

Chester Wright, Riviera Director Explains Just What Music Score Means

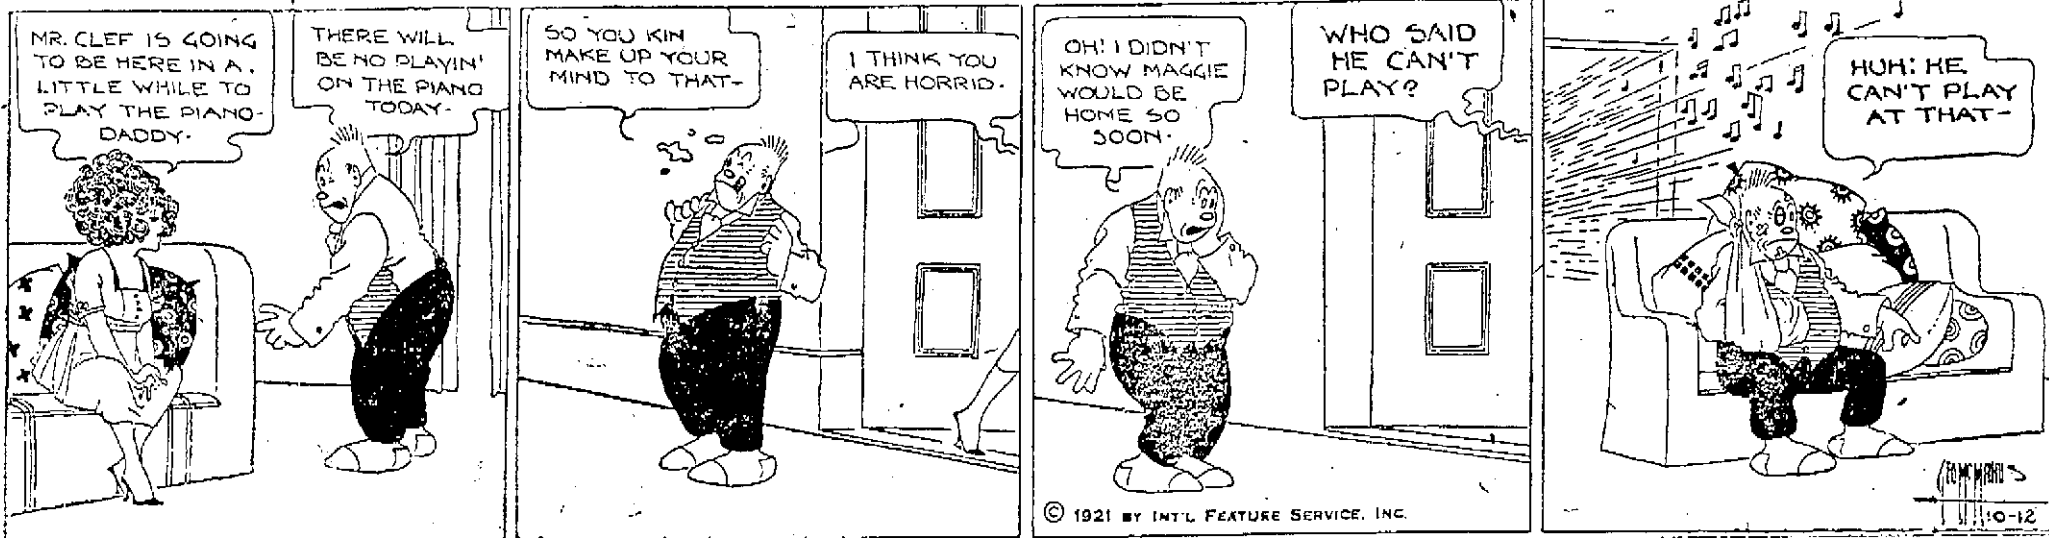

"The importance of music in the presentation of motion pictures, especially the huge productions of the present day, cannot be over-estimated and frequently is under-estimated," said Chester Wright, director of the Riviera theater orchestra, in discussing the extraordinary fine musical setting for "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," now showing at the Riviera. "One might compare fine picture theater music with the fragrance of flowers. To see a beautiful rose and not breathe of its fragrance is like a beautiful photograph without the proper music setting; you don't half appreciate the rose or the photograph."

"Take, for instance, 'The Four Horsemen' music. One could listen to the music and not watch the screen at all and you would know what the story is about. When the orchestra strikes up the 'Patrie Overture' by Bizet, we know the picture we are about to see is dramatic and impressive. In the opening scene we see the great character 'Matigada' viewing his vast estate in Argentina, while the orchestra plays 'La Serenata De la Argentina' by Olsen, which makes it complete. Then we see a great colorful scene, filled with dancing, violins, fiery men and women of Spanish blood, dancing the 'tango,' full of merriment. One forgets it's only a picture and as the orchestra plays the 'tango' with the clicking of castanets, and tinkling tambourines, one wants to join the crowd. Suddenly the music stops, dead silence prevails, as 'Julio,' filled with jealousy takes the girl of his choice from her partner, then the music strikes up and the dance goes merrily on."

"Then the orchestra plays the mysterious sinister theme from 'Carolina' Overture by L. V. Beethoven, as the sinister motive of Karl von Hartrott unfolds itself, and as the story progresses we hear 'Cuban Dance' by Iguazio Cervantes; Intermezzo, from the grand opera 'Goyescas' by Francisco Granados; 'Valse Mignonne' by R. Strauss. Then we see the solemn, impressive character of 'Tchernoff,' the prophet. We hear the solemn strains of Chopin's 'Prelude' then a thunderbolt from the sky the silence is broken by the cry of 'War! War!' and then we hear the mighty overture of 'Roy Blas' by Mendelssohn, with glancing trumpets, rumbling tympani, beating drums, and we see the excited populace, marching soldiers. We hear the great 'French National Battle March' by Turler, as countless thousands of French soldiers march past. Then we hear the beautiful love theme, 'Have a Rendezvous With You' by Ernest Lutz, a melody that will linger long in our memories, and 'Forever and Forever' by Tosti, as sweethearts bid good-bye and part perhaps forever."

"Then we realize the awfulness of war as we hear the special music by Lutz. The booming and rumbling of tympans, flaring trumpets, and then the sinister theme of Chopin's prelude again reminds us of the sinister motive and then to the flaring trumpets Overture by L. V. Beethoven, as the sinister motive of Karl von Hartrott unfolds itself, and as the story progresses we hear 'Cuban Dance' by Iguazio Cervantes; Intermezzo, from

OLD SETTLER VISITS HIS OLD FRIENDS IN HOUSTON COUNTY

CALEDONIA, Minn.—James P. Kierdan, 80-years-old, an old-time resident of this place, has recently visited here to renew acquaintances. He is a poet of no mean ability, an artist whose work will stand comparison with some of the best, his ability as a school teacher has been fully demonstrated while his service in the U. S. navy was most excellent. He is a native of Ireland, born in Cork in 1840, is a graduate of a foremost college of Ireland and enlisted in the U. S. navy two weeks after he landed in America in 1864. He served three years in the navy and was master-at-arms on the ship Richmond under Capt. Perkins. In 1868 he first came to Houston county and taught school. For a year he was deputy county auditor. He left Caledonia in 1897 and since has spent most of his time in Dayton, Ohio, where for some years he was adjutant at the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home there and is still connected with the institution.

CONFEREES DISCUSS ALLEGED VIOLATION OF THE IRISH TRUCE

man, but Mr. Lloyd George made a little opening speech of welcome to which Mr. Griffith replied. There was some discussion about the agenda and certain branches of the truce in the land were mentioned by both sides. The leaders of each side disclaimed any desire to protect the guilty, and a conference was arranged for Friday between the officials to find methods for getting a better observance of the truce.

Officials Happy Over Prospects

The officials who have had much to do with bringing about the conference were distinctly happier over the prospects Thursday night.

It is said that throughout the meetings the two provocative words were not used—"sovereignty" by the British and "independence" by the Irish. An interesting suggestion was made that the breakup of the conference on these points may be avoided by regarding the discussion to the future relations of Ireland and Great Britain and leaving the definition of the present relationship to the past. Thus, Ireland might consent to enter the British commonwealth of nations and, having done so, Great Britain might agree to sign a treaty as an independent nation.

Seeks Irish Confidence

Another rock in the extreme suspicion of the Irish and the fear that they will be outmaneuvered by the wily Welsh politician, Mr. Lloyd George recognizes this and he is ready to exercise the utmost patience and all of his wits to win their confidence.

Raw Onions for the Digestion

Onions markedly retard indigestion and increase the acidity of the gastric juices. From these facts it is deduced that in a normally functioning stomach the food is subject for a long period to a markedly acid gastric juice that enters the intestine in a more thoroughly digested condition and we may assume that no portion of the chyme entering the intestine has been in contact with the gastric juices. Consequently, bacteria that have entered the stomach with the food are most likely to be killed.

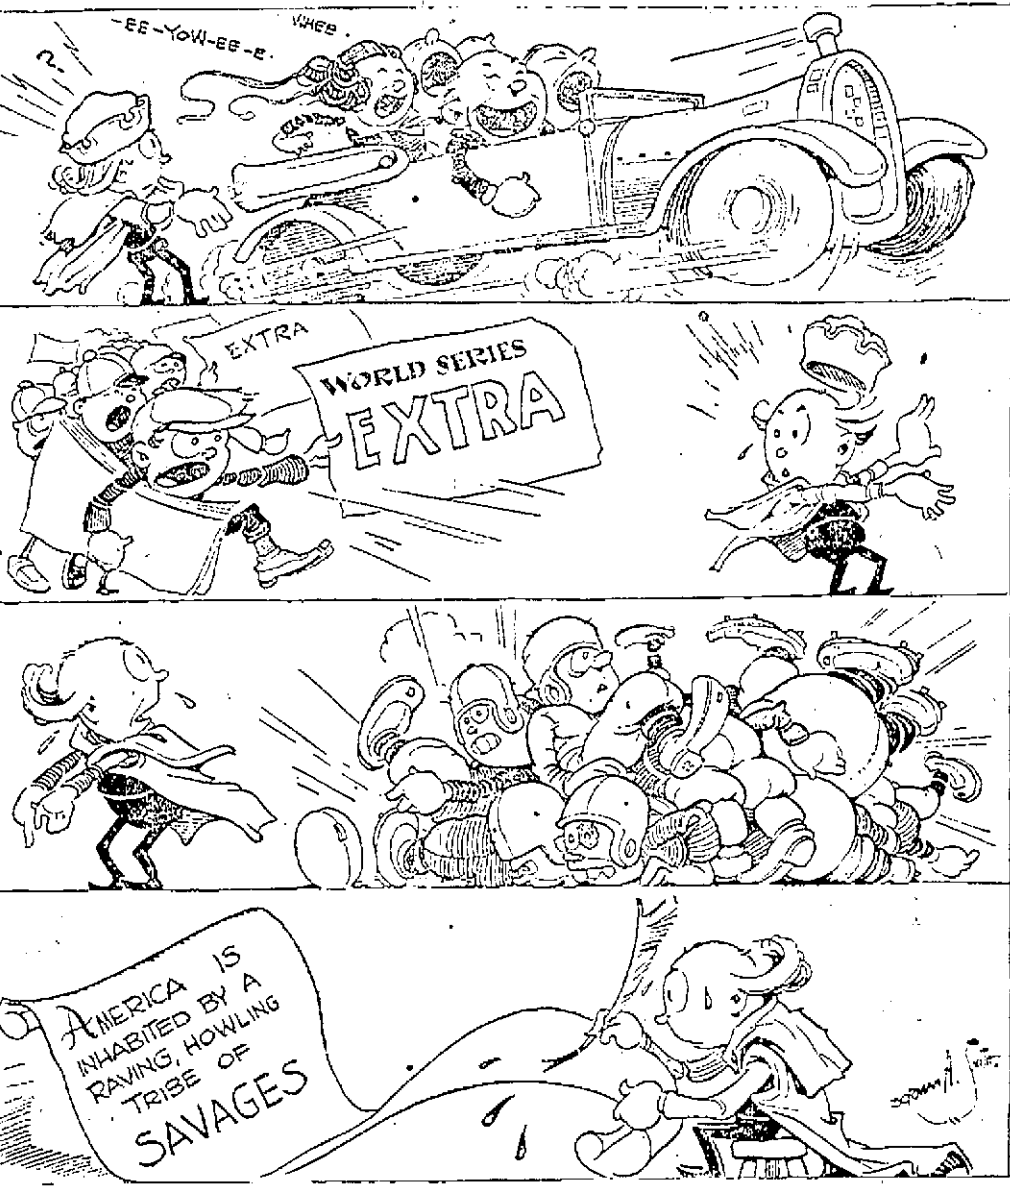

Buried With Her Sheets

One of the recent finds made at Thebes, Egypt, was a body of a woman, evidently the head of an extensive household, who had been buried with all her household linen. There were forty linen sheets, some of them beautifully fringed, and all in excellent condition. Some of them bore evidences of having been mended, but the mending was so exquisitely done that it could hardly be detected.

Sixteen disabled soldiers, inmates of St. Francis hospital, were the guests of the Service Star Legion and A. J. Cooper, president of the Cooper Amusement company, at the matinee Wednesday of "The Four Horsemen" at the Riviera theater.

The theater party for the sick and wounded soldiers was arranged by Mr. Cooper with Mrs. R. W. Keyes and Mrs. Barbara J. Foster, who are active in the work of the Service Star Legion which has been doing excellent philanthropic work among disabled soldiers in hospitals in La Crosse.

Mrs. Keyes arranged for the automobiles to take the soldiers to the theater and back to the hospital. The following donated their cars for the afternoon, Mrs. N. Tausche, Mrs. M. Hayes, Mrs. Keyes, F. A. Belman and E. M. Wing, with Sherwood Wing driving the machine.

WATCHES' ACCURACY IS DISPUTED POINT IN HEARING OF HUNTERS

Men Arrested on Charge of Shooting After Sundown Appeal to Circuit Court

The question of whose watches were correct, those of the hunters or the game warden, is the disputed point in the case of M. A. Cronin and Clayton Erickson of La Crosse, who were arrested on charges of shooting after sundown on October 5 in the town of Holland.

Bonnis and Erickson were arraigned Tuesday afternoon before County Judge Brindley and were found guilty of the charge. Each was fined $50, with costs amounting to $14.75 each. Through their lawyer, Leonard Kleber, the case was appealed to the circuit court. The complaint was sworn out by Clyde and Percy Sack and E. W. Santsch.

The game warden charged that they began shooting from 7:14 p. m. to 8:05 p. m. On that day, October 5, it was sundown at 7:31 p. m. Bonnis and Erickson declare that they did not shoot after 7:30 p. m. and perhaps quit earlier than that time.

Keepers of Libraries

Those who read many books are like the eaters of bushy. They live in a dream. The subtle poison that penetrates their brain renders them insensible to the real world and makes them the prey of terrible or delightful phantoms. Books are the opium of the Occident. They devour us. A day is coming on which we shall all be keepers of libraries, and that will be the end.—Anatole France.

PROPERTY VALUE IN STATE INCREASED OVER 24 MILLIONS

Total Assessment for La Crosse County is Increased $886,739 Over 1920 Figures

The value of all property in Wisconsin has increased over $21,000,000 during the past year, according to the announcement of the state tax commission in making public the state assessment for 1921. The aggregate assessment of all taxable property in the state for 1921 subject to local assessment was found to be $4,594,739,962 as against a valuation of $1,570,698,530 for 1920.

The state assessment is the basis of the present seven-tenths mill tax for the support of the common schools; the three-eighths mill tax for the support of the university; and the one-sixth mill tax for the support of the normal schools are levied against each county and upon which the balance in favor of or against the county in the distribution of the school fund is founded," said Chairman Thomas E. Lyons of the state tax commission today.

The assessment of real estate for 1921 shows an increase of $104,278,240 or 2.92 per cent increase over the assessment of 1920. The assessment of personal property, however, shows a decrease of $80,237,308 or 1.98 per cent. This leaves the net increase in the assessment of all property for 1921 over that of 1920 $24,041,432 or 2.10 per cent. The decrease in the value of personal property results primarily in the greatly reduced price of livestock and merchants and manufacturers goods according to Commissioner Lyons.

The total assessment of all property in La Crosse county was $62,708,065. Of this amount $46,815,572 was assessed against real estate and $16,892,493 was assessed against personal property.

Last year the total assessment of all property in La Crosse was $62,821,326. Real estate was assessed at $44,576,027 and personal property at $17,945,299.

Making It Clear

Clarence was trying to explain to his playmate the distinction between the small dog and the larger one, and this is the way he expressed himself: "The little dog is the baby dog, and the big one is the mamma dog, just like your mamma."

SIMPLE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores and do not get them out after they become hard. The calomel powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

There Is No Economy In Poor Vision

PEOPLE can economize on clothing. They can pare the household appropriation. The old car can be driven another season. Improvements on the property may be deferred. But glasses must be secured when they are needed.

There is no scale of values by which the worth of good vision may be reckoned. Like good health, it is absolutely necessary for the proper performance of our daily duties and the full enjoyment of life itself. Such a priceless possession must be safeguarded, whatever the cost.

Delay in securing glasses for weakening eyes is not economizing but the costliest kind of folly. You are not only experiencing discomfort, perhaps suffering and depriving yourself of your full efficiency, but every day the eyes are without the assistance they need, their natural powers are retrograding the faster.

Good Vision is the most inexpensive thing you can secure. The small expense of proper lenses fitted by a competent optometrist makes the cost of good vision insignificant. If you have any reason to suspect that your eyes are not functioning properly, as a matter of economy you should consult a reliable optometrist at once.

IOWA OFFERS STRONG OPPOSITION TO BIG TEN GRID ELEVEN

Illinois Has Task on Hand to Win First Conference Game from Hawkeyes

CHICAGO, Ill.—Having defeated Notre Dame for the first time in over a decade, the Hawkeyes are now the most powerful eleven in the middle west, Iowa will be completely out of the running for the championship of the Big Ten conference on Saturday when Coach Howard Jones will send his team into action against Illinois in the most important game of the Hawkeye schedule.

Although Iowa will clash with Purdue, Minnesota, Indiana and Northwestern at any of these times will give Iowa such a battle as Notre Dame put up. The Hawkeyes beat the Hoosiers at their own game—namely, hard hitting line and off tackle attack.

As Iowa came out of last Saturday's game, the line, which was the exception of fullback Locke, who was injured about the legs and body, Illinois has a task on its hands to win its first conference game. The victory over Notre Dame will encourage the Iowans to greater efforts, and they undoubtedly are looking forward to winning all their games.

A2 American Timber at Iowa

The Iowa eleven is composed of some of the best players in the middle west. In Captain Autrey, Doyne, Iowa has a player who should be a strong contender for All-American honors this year. There is little about football this player does not know and how to do it.

Doyne can run, pass and punt, a combination of football assets which make him a valuable player. In addition he can kick, as was shown in the Notre Dame game when he kicked the goal between the posts from about the 40 yard line. On top of all these qualifications the Hawkeye line is a brainy player, who directs his team with rare judgment.

Glen Doyne, brother of the captain, is another veteran player of the first water. While not as flashy as his brother, Glen is of the consistent type who seldom is stopped back of the scrimmage line. It gives him a chance he will make good. He is a valuable man in the interference and strong defensively.

PURPLE ELEVEN WORKS HARD FOR WISCONSIN GAME

CHICAGO, Ill.—Northwestern's football team spent Tuesday afternoon in a long scrimmage against the freshmen eleven, with the yardlines taking the offensive most of the time and using Wisconsin plays that Coach Sweeney has taught them. Coach McDevitt and his assistant drilled the varsity on the defense.

The Purple will enter the game Saturday with a number of new formations McDevitt has taught them in the last two days and which he plans to perfect before the coming battle.

The Wisconsin game Saturday is the homecoming battle for the Purple, and special bleachers are to be erected to accommodate the returning alumni. E. B. Davidson, ticket manager, said Tuesday the advance sale of tickets promises overwonderful stands.

SHIRVEN CLOTHIERS WIN 33 OF 41 GAMES PLAYED THIS YEAR

The Shirven clothiers baseball team completed the season's schedule with thirty-three victories out of forty-one games. Nelson, member of the coaching staff of the team, won twenty of the twenty-two games he pitched. The lineup of the team was as follows: Vingers, R; West, C; Fred, R; Shinslak, C; Tyne, 1b; Coplin, 2b; Larson, 3b; Temp, ss; Nelson, p.

"SHUFFLIN' PHIL" DOUGLAS TO BE SENT AGAINST YANKS IN SEVENTH SERIES BATTLE

NEW YORK.—Clear, cold weather was indicated for this afternoon's world's series game. Heavy rain for a time threatened to cause a postponement, but it had ceased before any of the fans were on the way to the Polo grounds.

NEW YORK.—The Giants and Yankees were keyed up a semi-tone or so above normal Wednesday for the seventh game of the world's series, tied at three games all by the Giants 8 to 5 victory Tuesday after a week of slugging at the Polo grounds. They seemed to think that tricky, something called the breaks in the game, would make its appearance Wednesday afternoon and point out the ultimate victor in the championship struggle. Whoever wins Wednesday will be only one victory away from the throne, while the losers must take the next two games in succession to become baseball champions of the world.

Carl Mays will be sent against the weakened Giants Wednesday. Manager Huggins said to be followed Thursday by Waite Hoyt, who permitted the National leaguers only one run in eighteen innings.

"Shufflin' Phil" Douglas is the likely choice of McGraw. Should this big spitballer be put to work Wednesday it will be the third time he opposed Mays. He has a bad cold, it was noted about his contrivances. Perhaps it will keep him from pitching. If so, McGraw said he would select either the aged and slim Sales or Pat Shea, a new arrival.

Shea, in his few weeks of active duty with the Giants, won five games and was beaten only twice.

Tit-for-tat Spirit

Metropolitan fandom believes the Yankees will get the full nine games, regard they say, how the terms over the span of a whole week showed themselves inclined with a tit-for-tat spirit.

The advantage of power in the box now lies with the Giants, Douglas and Barnes have shown they can take the rush of Yankee's bats. Douglas is booked to pitch Wednesday and Neph tomorrow.

Neph lost two games to the Yankees largely because his teammates made but one run in eighteen innings. He labored with him. This would leave for the possible ninth game assignment, Barnes, who twice has succeeded in his last game.

GRID MATERIAL AT HIGH SCHOOL STILL BIDDING FOR BERTHS ON ELEVEN

Coach Keegan is preparing for the game with Sparta next Saturday by polishing off the rough spots of the local high school eleven. The team is in good condition for the first out of Iowa game of the season, and will try to come home with a win.

No changes in the lineup have been announced as yet. Bateman, regular fullback, who played in only half of the Tomah game at a guard position, will be back at his regular post and will add greatly to the strength of the backfield. There are four halfbacks that can all be counted on for sizable gains who will battle for a regular berth for next Saturday's fracas. They are Tom Maloney and Joe Abraham, both letter men of last year, and Morris and Hurley, who have never played with the first string before this year. Weigert seems the most likely choice for quarterback, with Birtum looming as a close second.

Line Strengthened

The line will be strengthened by linking formations, and the team will undoubtedly present a stronger front than ever before this season. The end positions are also closely contested for. Kilian and Holley, of last year's squad, will probably be the first choice, but Cameron and Lewis are being given a chance to prove themselves. For tackles, Dunham and Lisecore are sure of making the trip while Ash and Bakum are still practicing at these positions.

Tobias, hero of last Saturday's game, Edwards and Blackley are the guard candidates, and either Blackley or Hankerson will be found in the pivot position.

By keeping a larger squad on all season, and teaching them the game, the team is assured of a good squad left for next season. Last year, only the men who had any possible chance of making the team remained out all season, and consequently, Coach Keegan has had to learn at the very beginning and teach the men the game.

ARM ENDANGERED IF RUTH PLAYS ANOTHER GAME IN THE SERIES

Arm Said by Physicians to be in Dangerous Condition at Present Time

NEW YORK—Two New York physicians who examined Babe Ruth's injured left forearm on Monday night said that if he played another single inning of this world's series he might lose the arm.

Ruth therefore is considered as lost to the Yankees for the rest of the series. Many inquiries were received at the Hotel Ansonia where he lives with Mrs. Ruth, Monday evening, when word of the seriousness of his condition spread about New York.

Ruth's arm is said to be in a dangerous condition even now and the doctors told him they would discontinue all responsibility for the consequences if he should again disobey their orders and resume playing. Ruth previously had been ordered to keep out of the game but realizing what his loss would mean to the Yankees in their first world's series, decided to run the personal risk. The result was aggravation of the injury.

A Vision of the People's Good

In his issue of September 22, Mr. H. A. Sturges, Editor of the Republic of Beresford, S. D., prints the following editorial:

"The Republic has carried for a long time a series of messages in the form of advertisements, ordered and paid for by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). There is a notion on the part of many that everything that a corporation does is of a selfish nature, and that there never is a vision of the people's good. These messages have carried an entirely different tone, and we believe they are worth reading from week to week. The data this week is very interesting."

The recognition of the sincere effort which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has put forth through these advertisements to inform the public as to its purposes, policies, and ideals, is gratifying.

In the opinion of the seven Directors of this organization, the business of this Company should be, and is, an open book.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an institution performing an essential service in a highly specialized branch of industry.

This Company is owned by 21,188 individuals, not one of whom owns as much as 10 percent of the capital stock.

The management of this Company centers about seven men, who constitute the Board of Directors. Each one is a specialist in one or more branches of the petroleum industry, and devotes all of his time to the business and affairs of this Company. Not one of the Directors has inherited his job; he has earned it.

Individually, and collectively, the Board of Directors believes that the business, in which this Company is engaged is so vital, so important to the commercial and domestic life of all the people of the eleven states it serves, that they have caused to be published this series of advertisements, that the people may know how the business is being conducted.

Further, the 25,000 men and women who make up this organization are putting forth such enthusiastic, painstaking efforts to do a good job for the Company, and, in turn, for the people, that the Directors are glad to tell the public what is being done.

Through these advertisements they are giving an account of their trusteeship to the people frequently, as they do to the stockholders annually.

This is the purpose of this campaign of advertisements, on which the publisher of the Beresford Republic has seen fit to comment favorably.

MARGUERITE CLARK—RIVOLI

On the stage of the Biograph Studio in New York, and elaborate breakfast room "set" was prepared for Marguerite Clark's present, vehicle "Scrambled Wives," closing its local run at the Rivoli Theater today.

Director Griffith decided that in order to give the scene proper realism, a real breakfast would be served. He instructed the players to come to the studio without having partaken of food.

When everyone was seated at the table next morning, the colored chef who had been commissioned, rushed onto the set, "Beg pardon, Miss Clark, but Ah didn't get your order," he said, "Oh, I'll have some eggs," said the piquant star of "Scrambled Wives." "How you all like your eggs, Misses?" asks the next inquiry. "Scrambled, of course," replied Miss Clark. "We must have harmony in this picture."

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN—MAJESTIC

Lovers of sensible and wholesome photoplay entertainment will find a picture just to their liking at the Majestic theater tomorrow, when Elaine Hammerstein offers "Remorseless Love," a screen-drama based on Mary Lanier Magruder's story, backed by the rugged and beautiful settings of nature, with connected detail and without frills or distracting episodes dragged in to make a "movie" holiday.

Miss Hammerstein this time plays the role of a school teacher who has set her face against the traditions of her tribe and kind—she hates fads as useless, cruel and uncivilizing. She looks mighty nice, too, in the plain garb for which she has discarded the usual habiliments of society with its dinner gowns and ballroom "atmosphere." She matches the trees and "The Scoffer" will be shown at the Majestic for the last time this evening.

WE CAN PROVE IT with a dozen new EDISONS

We did prove it—absolutely and conclusively—with a single New Edison. You know we did, from the results of the test made last week at La Crosse Theatre, when Helen Davis and Victor Young compared their art with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison.

We can prove it again—with any other Official Laboratory Model in our store.

Last week's marvelous exhibition was not the achievement of a special New Edison. It was simply a regular performance for any Official Laboratory Model.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Buy one of these Official Laboratory Models on our easy payment Budget Plan. Then you have the one phonograph that sustains the one vital phonograph test. Then you have music so perfectly RE-CREATED that you feel that you are listening to living artists.

We guarantee that any Official Laboratory Model, which you select from our stock, will do everything which was done by the instrument used in last week's test.

BAY STATE SOLON DEMANDS PROBE OF THE KU KLUX KLAN

Man Who Warned Wilson Administration Calls Attention to Klan's Activities

FOUNDER OF ORGANIZATION CALLED BEFORE COMMITTEE

Hearings Held on Resolution for Congress Inquiry

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Demand for an investigation of the activities of the Ku Klux Klan was made before the house rules committee Tuesday by Representative Tague, democrat, Massachusetts.

Called as the first witness at hearings on a number of resolutions providing for an inquiry by congress, Mr. Tague said he first directed the attention of the department of justice to the Klan prior to exchange of administrative letters last March. Later he took up the question with Attorney General Clegg and was informed that the department's own inquiry then under way showed there was foundation for some of the charges against the Klan.

"There is no law to permit men to go out in the dark and take me or my family from my home to punish me whether I am black or white, Catholic or Jew," Mr. Tague declared. "If the charges as published are true it is time for congress to put out its hand and stop it."

William J. Simmons of Georgia, imperial wizard and founder of the Klan, was among the first witnesses. The hearing was delayed while picture men got photographs of the imperial wizard and the committee.

On objection of Representative Rodenburg, republican, Illinois, the ward and the committee were not included in one group.

In opening the hearing Chairman Campbell explained that a number of resolutions had been calling for a thorough investigation of the Klan. The question whether the order had violated the postal laws would have attention from the government, the chairman said, as well as charges that lawless acts had been committed by masked men.

FORMER BEAVER DAM MAYOR KILLED BY AUTO

BEAVER DAM, Wis.—C. W. Harvey, 72, five times mayor of Beaver Dam, and secretary of the Dodge County fair for many years, died Sunday of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile Sunday. Blinded by a heavy rain, Mr. Harvey did not see the approach of the machine. Frank Zubka, driver of the car, was cleared of blame by county officials.

Mr. Harvey was a member of the board of trustees of Wayland college, Beaver Dam; president of the Wisconsin State Firemen's association for seven years and a member of the state fair board, and a Mason.

NAMES GAVE OUT SO FATHER OF 32 LETS 'EM PICK THEIR OWN

SAVANNAH, Ga.—A. B. Burgess, a negro, employed by the Atlantic Coast Line railway, probably has the largest family in Georgia. He is the father of 32 children and has had three wives. Twenty-six of the children are living. The negro has been blessed with seven sets of twins and two sets of triplets.

When the last set of twins were born Burgess and his wife had run out of names for them and they went nameless until they selected their own when they entered public school.

Burgess shied at selecting names when he found that among his progeny he had been "doubling up" having two "Willies" and two "Sallies" in his flock.

HOSPITAL BELLS TRANSMIT SERIES REPORTS TO SICK

NEW YORK.—Patients at Roosevelt hospital get an lining by lining report of the giant-Yankee games by listening to the bells ordinarily used to summon nurses and doctors. Long signals, each in line, one for the first, two for the second, and so on. A giant score is indicated by two long and one short. When the patients hear one long followed by a short and two long rings, they know the Yanks have made a run.

BARTL WEBBER GETS 60 DAYS; SOLD MOON AT VIROQUA FAIR

COURTESY SLOGAN PUZZLES STRANGER IN DAVENPORT

DAVENPORT, Ia.—He was a stranger in town—from Chicago—and asked a traffic cop what car to take to the orphan's home.

He was directed to board a car bearing the Oakdale sign.

Care passed but the stranger still stood on the corner.

"What's the matter, don't you want a street car?" inquired the policeman.

"Yes, I do," impatiently responded the stranger, "but all these cars go to 'Courtsey' and I want to go to the Orphan's home."

"Courtsey" is the latest slogan adopted by the street railway company to establish a better fellowship between passengers and train crews.

ROB MILL CITY BANK MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Two robbers Tuesday held up a messenger for the Liberty State bank here, took from him $3,500 in cash and $30,000 in checks and fled in an automobile. Shortly after the police found the automobile and in it were the checks but the cash and the robbers were missing.

CUT IN RAIL RATES WILL HELP NATION BACK TO NORMALCY

Readjustment Needed Says Recommendation to be Made to Unemployment Conference

WASHINGTON.—Readjustment and reduction of railroad freight rates constituted one of a number of recommendations formulated for presentation Tuesday to the national unemployment conference for bringing about a permanent betterment of the nation's commerce and industry with consequent relief of unemployment.

The recommendation with respect to rates, as in the case of other recommendations, was set forth in a resolution adopted by a conference committee for approval by the full conference. The recommendation proposes readjustment of railroad rates more nearly in accord with the relative value of the commodities and reductions in charges on shipments of primary commodities.

Other resolutions which will be presented to the full conference late today recommend:

Speedy enactment to tax legislation with its contemplated reduction of levies so business may be promptly revived.

Settlement of the government's financial relationship with the railways.

Limitation of world's armament and consequent increase of tranquility and further decrease of the tax burden.

Action looking to the minimizing of fluctuations of exchange.

Definite programs of action that will lead to more regular employment in seasonal and intermittent industries.

There's lots of bed bugs when the alarm clock rings.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do what which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.
